

CRJ 1070 : Police - Community Relations

Explores the interrelationship between criminal justice agencies and various segments of the community they serve. Forces that affect interaction between the police and citizens including the psychology of bias, racism and cross cultural communication will be examined along with concepts of community oriented policing services.

Credits 3.0

Semester Offered

fall/spring