

GEOL 1530 : Environmental Geology

Geologic materials and processes basic to understanding today's environmental problems. Resources, pollution, waste disposal, land use planning, and geologic hazards such as volcanoes, earthquakes, flooding, landslides. This course is designed for science majors. Lecture/laboratory/field work. Writing in content area. Prerequisites: Successful completion of MATH 1215 or higher. Eligible to take ENGL 1010. "C" or higher in college Earth Science or "C" or higher in any college lab science course. Lab fee.

Credits 0.0-4

Semester Offered

Spring

General Education Areas

Natural Science Reason Gen Ed