

HLTH 1207 : Foundations of Personal Health

A comprehensive course addressing the current health problems facing our society, focusing on behavioral health strategies for prevention; risk-reduction; and basic principles and practices involved with attaining and maintaining optimal personal health and wellness.

Credits 3.0

Semester Offered

fall/spring